RAPIDLY GROWING FIRM PROVIDES CUSTOMIZED SECURITY SERVICES AND CONSULTING

Northeast Security opens regional headquarters at One Financial Plaza in Providence, R.I.

PROVIDENCE, RI On October 24th, Northeast Security had officially opened its regional headquarters, located at One Financial Plaza. From this new regional headquarters, Northeast Security is now providing its customized security services throughout the state. These services include: 24-hour a day management and staffing of professional on-site uniformed security officers, background checks and investigations, emergency preparation and protection services, security audits and assessments, as well as a range of specialized security consulting services. Northeast Security commenced operations in R.I. on July 1st of this year.

Northeast Security is qualified to provide security services to high-rise environments, corporate office parks, industrial worksites, educational institutions and residential properties. The security firm's senior management team thoroughly understands the challenges involved in securing commercial and residential properties and is personally involved in the day-to-day operations of each client's security. Northeast Security's implementation of client systems and cost-saving recommendations give its clients the confidence that their properties are well looked after 24-hours a day.

"R.I.'s commercial real estate industry and employment market have been rapidly growing. Since Northeast Security is the leader in the New England commercial real estate market, it is perfectly fitting for us to expand into the area," said John Hennessey, president of Northeast Security. "Providence is an ideal place for Northeast Security to provide our services; its population is nearing 200,000, it has a strong commercial real estate market, and has a wide range of security challenges that Northeast Security is well prepared to handle."

R.I. area manager, Andrew Palladini, is responsible for Northeast Security's business development and operations throughout the state. "We are very pleased to have established a regional headquarters in Providence and look forward to continuing our work with the Rhode Island commercial real estate community," said Palladini. "Northeast Security understands that a strong relationship with R.I.'s local community is critical to our mission of providing exemplary security services throughout the state. For that reason, one of our first community outreach initiatives was to sponsor the Providence Bruins."
